General

A Leadership Big Canoe team initially compiled the information contained in this Directory of Local Services in 2011-2012. The document has subsequently been updated and is intended to provide a resource directory listing providers of medical and support services, a description of their specific services, and any known restrictions, funding information and contact information.

We recognize that this directory is not exhaustive and there may be other providers doing similar work in our community. We utilized our best efforts to compile this directory and apologize to any providers who were not included. Also, since organizations change periodically, please refer to phone books or websites for current contact information. If you find any inaccuracies in this publication or know of an organization that should be listed please forward this information to info@bcwell.org.

In no way is this directory intended to be a recommendation or an endorsement of any particular provider by the Big Canoe Property Owners Association, Big Canoe Wellness Collaborative, or Leadership Big Canoe, and it is recommended that before using any provider, you conduct your own research, check references, determine if the employees are bonded, and visit any available sites to learn the quality ratings of select provider groups. You must use your own judgment in determining which providers will best meet your needs.

Independent Living Facilities

The following is a partial list of area independent living, assisted living, memory care and nursing home facilities for residents who are seeking an alternative to aging in place.

For those wishing assistance in making the next step decision you can get in touch with Assisted Living Locators: David DeLucia 678-965-3459, or A Place for Mom (855) 398-5901, or A Safe Place for Nana (770) 737-3400. Their professional Eldercare Advisors provide personal assistance in locating the right options for your elderly loved one. An Eldercare Advisor can reduce your stress by providing a free consultation and help you find the right Home Care, Alzheimer's/Dementia Care, Assisted Living, Nursing Homes, and Retirement Communities.

WHAT IS INDEPENDENT LIVING?

Independent living housing comes in many forms ranging from 55+ apartment communities to villa homes on the campus of a retirement village or continuing care community. It is a senior living option for those who are able to perform their own basic ADLs (activities of daily living) and need little or no medical assistance.

Some of the facilities below also have assisted living. It will be indicated in the description.

Visiting nurse, 24-hour awake safe, many activities including water aerobics, live music, happy hour etc.

Assisted Living

WHAT IS ASSISTED LIVING?

Assisted living is often viewed as the best of both worlds. Residents have as much independence as they want with the knowledge that personal care and support services are available if they need them.

Assisted living communities are designed to provide residents with assistance with basic ADLs (activities of daily living) such as bathing, grooming, dressing, and more. Some states also allow assisted living to offer medication assistance and/or reminders. Assisted living communities differ from nursing homes in that they don't offer complex medical services.

Nursing Homes

WHAT IS A NURSING HOME?

A nursing home, convalescent home, skilled nursing unit (SNU), care home, is a facility that provides a type of care for residents. It's a place of residence for people who require constant nursing care and have significant deficiencies in activities of daily life. Residents include the elderly and younger adults with physical or mental disabilities. Many nursing homes accept Medicaid if the individual qualifies.

Nursing home ratings can be found at www.cms.gov/NursingHomeQualityInits/10_NHQualityMeasures.asp.
(Scroll down to Nursing Home Compare, Find and Compare in white box.)
